

Trecia Allen

Executive, JOHSPA

Trecia Allen has been a Safety, Health and Environmental Professional for almost 20 years in both the public sector and private manufacturing industry. In 2008 she was awarded the Hubert Humphrey Fulbright Fellowship for studies at the University of California, Davis. At UC Davis she participated in academic, leadership and professional development programmes in Environmental Management, Occupational Safety and Health, including interning with California Occupational Safety & Health Administration, CalOSHA. Trecia holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry and Management from the University of the West Indies, where she was awarded the Sherwin Williams Science Scholarship in 1996 & 1997. She subsequently obtained the MBA in Banking and Finance from the Mona School of Business and was awarded the prestigious Principal's Award for Outstanding Leadership in 2005.

Trecia holds the distinction of being the first female in the Caribbean to become a Certified Safety Professional (CSP) from the Board of Certified Safety Professionals in Illinois, USA. She is also a Qualified Environmental Professional (QEP) with the Institute of Professional Environmental Practice (IPEP), in Michigan, USA. A Certified Risk Manager (CRM) with the Professional Certification and Evaluation Board (PECB) in Canada, she is also an international member of the American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE) and the Air and Waste Management Association (AWMA).

As a member of the Course of Study Advisory Committee at the University of Technology (UTECH) for the Bachelor of Science in Occupational Health and Safety and a JOHSPA board member, Trecia is committed to playing a pivotal role in strengthening the nation's human capacity to manage occupational safety, health and environmental risks by bringing to bear her talents and considerable knowledge resources.